Fifty Years of

SUNDOUR

1906-1956

In 1906, after several years of research, James Morton introduced on to the market the first fabrics ever to be guaranteed against fading by sunlight or washing, known as Sundour Fabrics. Applied in the first place to furnishing fabrics this pioneering effort set a standard immeasurably higher than that generally prevailing in the textile trade at the time.

In 1930, prompted by a request from Bernard Shaw for a cloth to bind the editions of his 'Complete Works', the same technique was applied by James Morton to the production of bookcloths, and a comprehensive range of these is, in this year 1956, in wide use throughout the field of book production at home and abroad.

PUBLISHED BY LUND HUMPHRIES

ILIFFE & SONS LTD.

Iliffe & Sons Limited and their associated companies are constantly in touch, through their 34 journals, with the latest developments in many trades and industries. They thus know which subjects require more detailed and permanent treatment—which specialized books will be of most interest and value; equally they are reminded of the need to bring up to date the information therein.

Some 250 titles include a wide range of interests, from architecture to automobile engineering, from photography to plastics, for both the beginner and the expert, and the sale of certain titles exceeds six figures.

A number of year-books are accepted works of reference in their respective spheres.

NELSON'S MEDIEVAL TEXTS

The Letters of John of Salisbury

Volume I: The Farlier Letters

text by W. J. MILLOR edited by H. E. BUTLER and C. N. L. BROOKE

These letters, covering the time of anarchy caused by the Civil War between Stephen and Matilda, and nominally written by Archbishop Theobald of Canterbury, all bear the imprint of the lively genius of John of Salisbury, one of the wittiest medieval scholars 50s

The Historia Pontificalis of John of Salisbury

edited by MARJORIE CHIBNALL

John of Salisbury's only original historical work covers the years 1148 to 1152, during and after the Second Crusade. Master of words, as well as a trustworthy historian, this great scholar was himself an eye-witness of many of the events he describes. 20s

Gesta Stephani

edited by K. R. POTTER

The recent find of another and much fuller manuscript at Valenciennes has made it possible to print the text complete for the first time and provides the most significant account of the Civil War between Stephen and Matilda. One two-page map. 352*pp* 20s

Historia Novella

edited by K. R. POTTER

This companion volume to the above, from a manuscript by William of Malmesbury, takes the opposite point of view — that of Matilda — in the Civil War. Read in conjunction with Gesta Stephani, it gives a stimulating account of an ill-documented period. One two-page map.
208*pp* 20s

THE REVISED STANDARD VERSION OF THE New Testament

ILLUSTRATED EDITION

EIGHT colour plates, reproductions of paintings by Botticelli, Rembrandt, Vermeer, Dirk Bouts, Tintoretto, Ralphael, El Greco and Memling, adorn this fine edition of the New Testament. Revine binding, gilt tops, ribbon marker, slip-case 12s 6d

Providence and Suffering in the Old and New Testaments

by EDMUND F. SUTCLIFFE SJ How can apparently undeserved suffering be reconciled with beneficial Providence? After discussing the teachings of the Old and New Testaments on this subject, the author concludes that Christianity reckons suffering to be the will of God for the attainment of our eternal destiny.
184*pp* 15s

The Pattern of Christian Belief

by J. W. D. SMITH DD Discoveries such as the theory of evolution, the geological time scale, and the immensity of the universe, have shattered the complacent belief of the last century. This book is opportune for those who feel the need for some dependable certainty in the midst of new doubts.
176*pp* 12s 6d

The Dark Ages

by the late W. P. KER, Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford. The centenary of the author's birth, 30 August, 1955, afforded an opportunity of reissuing his history of European literature from the fifth century to the Renaissance, hailed on publication as a work of genius and still invaluable to-day.
xvi+368*pp* 15s

The Problem of the Picts

edited by F. T. WAINWRIGHT This first volume in Nelson's new series, Studies in History and Archaeology, is an authoritative study of the Picts, their origins, language, way of life and eventual fate. Historial, archaeological and philological methods are assembled, with chapters by six distinguished scholars. Many maps and diagrams, 12 half-tone plates, coloured end-paper maps. xiv+176*pp* 21s

NELSON'S PHILOSOPHICAL LIST

The Philosophical Movement in the Thirteenth Century

by Mgr. F. VAN STEENBERGHEN

This book examines the development o philosophical thought during the 'great century' of scholasticism. It also discusses recent controversies about the evolution of the thought of the thirteenth century
viii+120*pp* 10s

The Complete Works of George Berkeley Volume VII

edited by A. A. LUCE

The seventh volume contains George Berkeley's Sermons, other writings on religion, his Guardian essays, journals of travels in Italy, papers on his American project, his verses on America, and his Will. It completes his writings, except for the letters, which will appear in Volume VIII.
viii+390*pp* 30s

Plato: Philebus and Epinomis

translated by A. E. TAYLOR
edited by R. KLIBANSKY
G. CALOGERO and A. C. LLOYD

Among the posthumous manuscripts of that great Platonist, the late Professor A. E. Taylor, translations of Plato's Philebus and Epinomis were discovered. These translations and introductions by Professor Taylor have now been edited by Professor Raymond Klibansky with the co-operation of Mr G. Calogero and Mr A. C. Lloyd
viii+276*pp* 21s

David Hume: Writings on Economics

edited by EUGENE ROTWEIN

Here, in edited form, are all Hume's economic essays. Though these comprise a significant part of the economic literature before Adam Smith, new definitive printings have long been unavailable. Also reproduced for the first time are both sides of Hume's correspondence relevant to his economic thought.

MARIA AUGUSTA TRAPP—a family study of the Gospels

Yesterday, & Today & Forever

Maria Augusta Trapp (of the world-famous Trapp Family Singers) here describes how she and her family have spent many years in a joint research into the Gospels, reconstructing much of the events and background of Jesus, Mary and Joseph's life in terms of their own experiences. They have managed to bring Christ's life home to a modern generation. 2nd Imp 12s 6d

ALPHABETICAL

AUTHOR, TITLE AND SUBJECT

SECTION

When you wish to know what books are available on a subject or by an author consult this index first

ALPHABETICAL AUTHOR, TITLE AND SUBJECT SECTION

This Section contains entries or reference entries under authors, titles, editors, translators, series and subjects in one alphabetical sequence.

The entry under the author gives, in an abbreviated form, most of the information to be found in the entry in the Classified Subject Section, so that for most purposes it is not necessary to refer back to that entry when the author of a book is known. If, however, a fuller description is required, the entry in the Classified Subject Section—which gives the fuller description—can be found by means of the decimal code number at the end of the author entry.

If the editor, translator, title or series only is known, it will be necessary to refer back to the entry in this Section under the author's name. For example, if you look up the title Bleak House you will find the entry:

Bleak House. See Dickens, Charles

To find details of this book and its decimal code number, it is necessary to refer to the entry in this index under

Dickens, Charles Bleak House. Macdonald, 10/6 823 8 (B55-1930)

If you wish to know what books have been published on a particular subject it is necessary to consult this Section under the name of the subject. Here again you will find a decimal code number which must be sought in the Classified Subject Section.

It will be found most convenient to look up the specific name of the subject, for this will refer you directly to the decimal code number under which books on the subject you require may be found. It does not matter, however, if you look up another word so long as it is, in fact, concerned with the subject. You will find that the decimal code number for this word will refer you to a part of the Classified Subject Section so close to the subject which you actually require that the eye will be quickly led to it by the captions and "feature words" appearing against the numbers.

Even though you may become familiar with the arrangement of the Classified Subject Section, it is always advisable to consult this index.

An explanation of the abbreviations used in describing books in the Bibliography and further details for tracing information are given in the Preface.
